

"SPORTS OF THE TIMES"-DISPATCH

JOCKEY JAMMED: HAS CLOSE CALL

Aubuchon, Unseated, Gets Tumble, But Escapes With Cuts and Bruises.

NEW ORLEANS, January 2.—In the first race at the Fair Grounds to-day Jockey Aubuchon, riding Sir Vagrant, was unseated in a jam. His face was painfully lacerated. In consequence of this accident, Aubuchon's mount in the third race, Goldman, was scratched, and bets were declared off.

Jockey Perrette, riding Florizel, in the fourth race, was suspended for the remainder of the meeting and fined $50 for striking St. Valentine with a whip. In the fifth race Jockey Seder, riding Billy Vertrees, was suspended for the remainder of this meeting for cutting across the field. Summaries:

First race—five and a half furlongs, selling—Decklaw (5 to 1) first, No Quarter (8 to 1) second, Buren Arnold (4 to 1) third. Time, 1:07 4-5.

Second race—six furlongs, selling—Matador (9 to 1) first, Lady Vashit (11 to 10) second, Ralbert (3 to 1) third. Time, 1:14.

Third race—one mile, selling—Beau Brummel (14 to 5) first, Lady Ellison (12 to 1) second, Darling (25 to 1) third. Time, 1:41.

Fourth race—mile and a sixteenth—Lucky Charm (5 to 1) first, St. Valentine (1 to 2) second, James Reddick (8 to 1) third. Time, 1:49 4-5.

Fifth race—six furlongs—Judge Davey (15 to 1) first, Billy Vertrees (10 to 5) second, Brittanly (8 to 1) third. Time, 1:13 4-5.

Sixth race—mile and a quarter—Lena J. (8 to 1) first, Lacuche (15 to 1) second, Merry Pioneer (8 to 1) third. Time, 2:09 1-5.

BARNEY DREYFUSS WILD WITH JOY

Fished for Two Years for Abbatichio and Finally Landed Him.

PITTSBURGH, January 2.—Barney Dreyfuss to-day came out with the rather remarkable statement that he had worked for two years to secure Abbatichio, the former Boston second-baseman, and that in that period of time he had repeatedly offered Ritchey as a leading bait, but with trimmings, yet could not make the deal until this winter. Dreyfuss expresses great joy that he has been able finally to make the deal. Said he:

"Two years ago I offered Ritchey and five other players to Boston for Abbatichio, but Boston laughed at me. I tried in other ways to make the deal for second-basemen, but could not make the deal. Last year I offered $5,000 in cash, hard cash for Abbatichio, rather in check, had the check made out in fact, but the deal fell through. I'm here to say that I do not think that Pittsburgh got any the worst of that deal. We have it's my fault, for I have been after a change of Ritchey for Abbatichio for two years."

The statement sounds remarkable from the fact that two years ago a newspaper published a story in effect that Dreyfuss was trying to trade Ritchey, whereupon Dreyfuss went almost into hysterics of denial, claiming that someone was trying to create hard feelings between himself and his best players.

Middles Lose Ball Players.

ANNAPOLIS, January 2.—All of the seven members of last season's baseball nine of the Naval Academy who belong to the present first-class and whose services would be available for another season if they graduated in June, the regular time, have qualified for early graduation. The excellence of their scholarship has therefore caused the Academy to lose their services as baseball players. Of the first section, which contained those most highly qualified as students, and which was graduated in September last, Third-Baseman and Captain Heobald, Pitcher Neesham and Shortstop Gill were members. In the second section, which graduates next month, there are the three outfielders, Thibault, Goldthwaite and Cohen, and First-Baseman Symington. Manager McKittick is also in this section.

BATTLING NELSON

WILL FIGHT GANS

BATTLING NELSON'S BEST BODY BLOW

NEW YORK, January 2.—A cablegram received to-day from Battling Nelson contains the first and positive announcement of the terms upon which the Dane is willing to again meet Joe Gans. The message reads:

"Arrived safely after stormy passage; match Gans; $40,000; sixty-five per cent. to the winner and thirty-five to loser; fight in August."

Nelson's message evidently was inspired by the receipt by him of the news of Gans's decisive victory over Herman. He learned of the result upon his arrival at Liverpool. Nelson has not before stated the terms upon which he stands to face Gans the second time. Ever since the never negro fought him to a standstill at Goldfield and won on a foul, Nelson has said that he was anxious to try conclusions once more. Immediately after the fight Gans, his prestige increased by the showing made against Nelson, announced that if another match was arranged, he would fight on his own terms. Nelson had the long end of the bargain before the Goldfield battle.

It is a question if Nelson's terms will meet with the approval of Gans. Gans stated after his victory over Herman that he was eager for another match with the Dane.

HITCHCOCK TO SPEND WINTER TRAINING HIS JUMPERS

Has Fine Stable of Steeplechasers at Work for Conquests on Track Next Season.

LONG ISLAND, January 2.—Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., has sent a nice bunch of jumpers to Alken, S. C., in charge of his trainer, Charles Kierman, and he will spend the winter there. Mr. Hitchcock, after the holidays, will entertain a group of friends at his comfortable Southern place. He will spend the winter fox-hunting and training his jumpers. Mr. Hitchcock's favorite hunter these days is Foxhunter, the comely chaser who bore his colors creditably on metropolitan tracks a couple of years back.

Foxhunter did not train last spring. He spent the summer at Westbury. He looks well enough this winter, but he has a bad leg and his owner fears he will not train again.

Mr. Hitchcock will be occupied largely during January, February and March with his coming four-year-olds, Locked Out and Vendor. They appear to be the best of his new jumpers. Vendor is a son of Ogden, Mr. Hitchcock bought of his brother Frank last summer. He was a good two-year-old. He won the Eclipse stakes at Belmont Park in the spring of 1906, and he made his owner host at the "Waldorf dinner" in the fall by winning the Waldorf Dinner Party stakes at Sheepshead Bay. Vendor did not jump as creditably through the fall just past as by his owner hoped he might. He did not handle himself cleverly in the field, nor did he appear to care to go on.

But Mr. Hitchcock is far from condemning him. He is afraid he put the horse in training too soon after he was allowed to ease up. Less than six weeks elapsed between the operation and the beginning of his career as a chaser. After a winter's experience at hunting and a race or two next spring Mr. Hitchcock will expect Vendor to go through the field as cleverly as any three-year-old developed this year.

Vendor is a Stayer.

Vendor is not a big horse, but he has the conformation of a weight carrier and the action of a stayer. Locked Out won a race at Aqueduct, but he blundered in the Junior Steeplechase, the only three-year-old special run at Bunnings. Mr. Hitchcock does not think he could have beaten James W. Colt's Commodore Pontaine even if he had jumped perfectly in the Junior, but he is confident the gray would have given the Commodore a tussle.

Locked Out fended swiftly and safely before he was ridden. He was not as well ridden as he might have been. He did not have Ray in the saddle. That accomplished horseman could not make the weight. Mr. Hitchcock had to entrust Locked Out to Palmer, one of his negro exercise boys. Locked Out may not make as far as jumpers are asked to run. He is as game as jumpers come.

Mr. Hitchcock will engage him liberally in various specials to be decided next summer and fall, and if he does not make good he will be sold.

The turfman of Westbury and South Carolina is not without hope that Good and Plenty, the winner of one Champion and two Whitney memorials, may train again. Good and Plenty spent the summer at William Galt's farm in Albemarle county, Va. He has in splendid condition during the recently ended meeting at Bunnings. Good and Plenty was sent to Virginia after the last Whitney Memorial. He was so fine that Mr. Hitchcock did not care to train him for the Champion. Mr. Hitchcock has a deep affection for Good and Plenty.

Good and Plenty a Winner.

The big Rossington horse has won every time he has started since his first race. He might have won his first race, which fell to Walter Cleary, if Ray had whipped him out.

If Good and Plenty stands up next spring he will be got ready for another Whitney Memorial. Training a horse that has been lame for a two-mile-and-a-half race is easier than getting him ready to go three miles.

Hylas, the winner of two champions, went into winter quarters sound of wind and limb, and Mr. Hitchcock is sure he will stand up next year. But he will not be rushed as he was last spring. Both Mr. Hitchcock and his trainer attribute the poor record Hylas made in the spring and summer of 1906 to the rushing preparation he got for the Winter Memorial. He was hurried for the great race of the Belmont spring meeting because his people were afraid Good and Plenty might not stand. Mr. Hitchcock was determined to have a representative in the Whitney Memorial.

Discom was a very lame horse after his last race at Gravesend, and it looked very much as though he had bowed a tendon. But he is going soundly once more, and Mr. Hitchcock is inclined to think he may race again.

Phantom improved more last season than any jumper in the country. He began the season as a selling player, but at Saratoga he ran the light-footed Hercule to a head in the Beverwyck Handicap, and a little later at Gravesend he broke the track record for two miles and a half. It was not until he broke this record that Mr. Hitchcock conceded that he was of better than ordinary class. If Phantom trains he probably will not appear under colors until next fall. A horse with a bad tendon needs time for recovery.

Wrestling Match a Draw.

CHICAGO, January 2.—Carl Pons, the French champion heavyweight wrestler, and William Demetral, of Chicago, divided honors in a match here to-day. Demetral won the first fall in twenty-seven minutes with a reverse half-Nelson and headlock. Pons won the second in seventeen minutes, using the same hold. The third bout was declared a draw after thirty-five minutes of wrestling.

INDIAN RUNNER IS AN IRON MAN

Longboat, Canadian Champion,
Challenges All Amateurs
for a Race.

NEW YORK, January 2.—Thomas Longboat, the Indian long-distance runner, from Canada, has issued a sweeping challenge to meet America's fastest men. He prefers a race with Nebeloh, of the New York Athletic Club, or Bonning, of the Irish-American Club. He is willing, however, to turn professional and make a match for money.

Although only nineteen years old, Longboat is the fastest runner over a distance of ground in Canada. He has only competed in three events in his life, but the way in which he won all of those stamps him as a marvel of endurance.

Until last October, when he won the Marathon race in Toronto, Longboat was unknown to the sporting world. In that race he was matched against the fastest men in the Dominion, and before the race was considered to have no chance to win.

He arrived in Toronto the day before the race from his home at Caledonia, and slept at a farm-house. The day of the race he arose at 5 o'clock in the morning, and before the other contestants were out of bed he had covered the full course. When he finished he showed no signs of fatigue.

When the race was called in the afternoon he jumped to the lead at the start and never lost command. He was apparently as fresh at the finish as when he started.

On Thanksgiving Day he won the Herald race at Hamilton, Ont., so easily that he was hailed as a worthy successor of the mighty Deerfoot.

A week ago while the ground was covered with a foot of snow he won the Herald cup at Hamilton, Ont., and established a new world's record for ten miles. He ran that distance in 54 minutes and 50 seconds, lowering the mark held by Edwoud Hughes by nearly three minutes.

Longboat trains on a farm where he is employed. Every day he runs from five to twenty miles. Sometimes he runs alone, but on most occasions he is paced by a horse. He weighs less than 140 pounds, and is 5 feet 7 inches tall.

Sherring, the Canadian hero of the Olympic games, says the Indian is the greatest runner on earth. He says he is simply a machine built to run long distances.

Josenthal, Longboat's manager, is stopping at the New Square Hotel, where he will remain another week.

HATCHETTES TO PLAY VIRGINIA

Will Train at Y. M. C. A. for the Big Winter Track
Meets.

WASHINGTON, January 2.—In anticipation of a hard, close race with the University of Virginia for the intercollegiate relay championship of the South at the Federal indoor games in Convocation Hall, February 23, the George Washington University track team candidates will begin training to-morrow.

It is expected that at least a score of Hatcherettes will report to Captain Lorando in the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium, the use of which has been secured for the indoor training season.

Inasmuch as the distance of the race has not yet been settled it is impossible to forecast the chances of the two teams. Last year George Washington won rather handily at two miles. It had a quartet of strong, fast and experienced two-milers, while the distance was now to the Virginia athletes, all the Charlottesville runners having been shifted in two weeks from the quarter-mile to the half.

Has Same Four Men.

The local university has the same four men again this year. Captain Lorando, Fleming, Silvers and Babcock will endeavor to have the race arranged for the longer distance.

Topping to develop a fast bunch of half-mile runners, the trainer has had his men doing cross-country stunts during the fall and winter, and it now seems likely that the teams will race at the same distance as last year.

In addition to a strong relay team George Washington will have a well balanced and representative team for all events. With advantageous facilities for indoor training and the prospect of competition in several sets of indoor games, the Hatcherettes will be out to the largest track and field squad in the history of the college. Besides a relay team Virginia will send half a dozen men to the Federal games for the sprints and other open events.

Start Training Wednesday.

All the local schoolboys will begin regular training for the games on Wednesday of this week. It is probable that all the high schools will be represented by relay teams, either in races open only to first-year boys or races for the big teams. A relay race for the grade school champions of the District has also been added to the program.

Outfielder Ganley Goes to Senators.

PITTSBURGH, January 1.—The Pittsburgh Club to-day unconditionally released Outfielder Bob Ganley to the Washington American League Club. There was no player given, no player asked for the fleet outfielder, who has not met with approbation of the Pittsburgh owners. Fred Clarke to-day sent word to President Barney Dreyfuss to let Ganley go to Joe Cantillon's team without money or price, and Dreyfuss at once got busy sending Ganley a New Year's lemon, and hoping he would do better with Washington than he had with Pittsburgh. This disposes of the rumor that Ganley was one of the outfielders to go to Boston in exchange for Abbatichio.

Married Yesterday.

A marriage license was issued yesterday by the clerk of the Hustings Court to Mr. James M. Shinnall, of Albemarle county, and Miss Mary A. Crew, of Richmond. They were married last night. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hall. Crew, of this city. The bridegroom is a well-known contractor.

Neary and Desher Draw.

MILWAUKEE, January 2.—Dave Desher, of Cambridge, Mass., and Charlie Neary, of Milwaukee, fought a ten-round draw before the Badger Athletic Club to-day at 122 pounds.

NEW STATE BOWLING LEAGUE WILL INCLUDE SIX CITIES

James Kain Will Be Elected President, and First Games
Will Probably Be Rolled Next Week—
Interesting Match Last Night.

Manager E. G. Whitman, who will take charge of the Lake Bowling Alleys next Monday, is very busy now in forming and arranging the schedule of the Virginia State Bowling League. This league will be organized on a much stronger basis and on a much larger scale than heretofore. It is stated that six cities will be represented—Richmond, Portsmouth, Lynchburg, Roanoke, Norfolk and Petersburg. All the local bowlers are very much interested, and are very anxious for the league to be formed at the earliest date. It is stated that Mr. James Kain will be elected president of this organization. The first games will be played probably some time next week.

Match Last Night.

The regular match for the weekly prize at Williams's Alleys was rolled last night before a very large crowd. Ten of the star duckpin artists battled for honors. The game was very close and exciting. It was rolled in two sections. The first section was under the command of Captain Wilson, who carried his men on to victory and captured the first prize. The second section was under the command of Captain Meyers, who also made a fine showing, and won the second prize. The scores follow:

FIRST SECTION.

Wilson (captain) ..... 93
Kaufmann ..... 94
Colton ..... 94
Fairlamb ..... 92
Kelly ..... 87
Kerick ..... 87

Time of game, 1 hour. Umpires, Pedrick and Swann. Scorekeepers, James and Guthrie.

JAMES M'CREEA IS PRESIDENT

Says He Will Continue to Promote the Developments Conducted by Mr. Cassatt.

Will Fill Place on Boards
Has Been Employed in Railway Work Since He Was Seventeen.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., January 2.—James M'Creea, of Pittsburg, first vice-president of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg, was to-day elected president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company by the directors of the latter corporation, to succeed the late A. J. Cassatt.

After the meeting of the board of directors, President M'Creea authorized the following statement to the press:

"The policy of the Pennsylvania Railroad does not depend upon any one man. It continues unchanged from year to year. It will be my purpose to promote, as best I can, the same progressive development which was conducted so ably under President Cassatt, and the presidents who preceded him."

Mr. M'Creea had been selected to fill the vacancy at an informal meeting of the directors after the funeral of Mr. Cassatt on Monday. At that time it was decided to formally meet to-day and ratify the selection.

While the board went through the formality of electing a head for the great railway system, Mr. M'Creea, who returned from New York early in the day, remained in the private offices of the late President Cassatt. After he had been elected he was escorted into the boardroom and congratulated by his fellow members of the board.

So far as can be learned Mr. Cassatt's position as president of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg and other companies affiliated with the system, will not be filled until next week.

It is certain, however, that President M'Creea will be elected to all the places made vacant by the death of Mr. Cassatt.

The filling of the vacancies created by the death of M'Creea has been left to a committee of the members of the board, who will consult with Mr. M'Creea as to his wishes in the matter. The two men most mentioned for Mr. M'Creea's place as first vice-president of the Pennsylvania lines are Joseph Wood, of Pittsburg, second vice-president of the Western lines, and William V. Atterbury, of Philadelphia, general manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

Sketch of M'Creea.

James M'Creea was born in Philadelphia on May 1, 1848, so that he is not yet fifty-nine years old. Mr. M'Creea had his preliminary education in the private school of the Rev. John W. Falkner, and then went to the Pennsylvania Polytechnic College. When seventeen he began his life-work in railroad service. He started as a man for the Conellsville and Southern Pennsylvania Railroad.

Like many other railroad managers who began in that capacity, Mr. M'Creea set himself to build a career. He had strength of body and mind, also industry and perseverance. He got on well. He was in the engineer corps which laid out and constructed what is now the Wilmington and Northern Railroad.

In 1888 Mr. M'Creea became assistant engineer in construction of a branch of the Allegheny Valley Railroad. Three years later, on March 1, 1891, he entered the service of the Pennsylvania Railroad as principal assistant engineer in the construction department. Here he quickly demonstrated superior ability to attract the attention of the company's higher officers.

On August 1, 1894, Mr. M'Creea became division engineer of the Philadelphia Division. Next he was appointed superintendent of the middle division, and in this position had his first direct practical experience in the operating department.

Next, in October, 1898, Mr. M'Creea became first vice-president of the New York division. Many men of the service of the railroad in this section say they will remember him in this capacity, and they have the kindest feelings for him. Like Charles E. Pugh, second vice-president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Mr. M'Creea has the rare and valuable faculty of endeavoring himself to all those who come under his orders.

Has Railway Men's Confidence.

As with Mr. Pugh, so with Mr. M'Creea, position and authority have never made him forgetful of the rights and feelings of others. The men feel that they can go to Mr. M'Creea and find in him a superior officer, who will be always fair and just.

It was May 1, 1882, on his thirty-fourth birthday, that Mr. M'Creea was sent to Pittsburg as manager of the Pan Handle system. On October 10, 1885, he became general manager of all the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg. Two years later he was elected fourth vice-president.

On March 1, 1890, he was advanced to be second vice-president, and on May 1, 1891, again on his birthday, he became first vice-president of the Pennsylvania Western system. He was then just forty-three years old.

When Frank Thompson, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, died, Mr. M'Creea was elected to his place in the board of directors of the company.

Mr. M'Creea is a trustee of the University of Pennsylvania.
